We know, we must have enough knowledge to teach any kind of foreign languages, because teaching foreign languages demands a great responsibility. Especially, nowadays the population of the world is trying to learn a lot of foreign languages, for example, our country gives its great attention to teaching and learning and gives many opportunities to learn the Russian language, especially for the youth. Even our president I.A.Karimov has adopted a resolution about the teaching system of foreign languages and it will develop productively in the future. Based on this resolution nowadays a lot of different linguists' forums are taken place every week. And these attempts affect well our country's languages learning system. President resolution consists of different sections, for example, according to the resolution in 6th section there is written about the following: "People who don't live close to the city center, in other hand, the population in village live far from the city and some population live in the mountain, we will give chances language learners who want to enter the university, they have to accept the university's education by state's organization. Because in the village territory there are not enough foreign language teachers to teach pupils and students for teaching Russian language nowadays. Especially a few years ago in our country's school pupils start to learn foreign languages when they graduate from 4th class, before becoming 5th class pupil. But now school pupils start to learn foreign languages when they are 1st year student. We have Russian schools where the Russian language is taught in every aspect. Even this teaching system, our state cooperates with other foreign countries, for example, in Tashkent and other city centers there are organized the centers of teaching foreign languages. Nowadays many organizations cooperate with our country. By this cooperation, two countries make a lot of profit, for example, a share opinion, to change cultural information, to learn every country's traditions. We know, nowadays all education system are based on new technological system, and every lesson must be taught using such kind of technologies. So that, every teaching rooms are decorated with new modern technologies nowadays, for example, in lingua-phone rooms, pupils and students are using these technologies well, and as a result they are improving listening skills by listening to different Russian songs, movies and music. The condition of living is changing very fast, so education system also. New present century demands skilled, knowledgeable, energetic teachers. So that teachers have to change their old teaching systems, and they have to find the styles of modern and new teaching foreign languages as present education system is based on new idea, new methods. We, youth, must try to become complicated and knowledgeable teachers. Especially, nowadays internet branches are spreading very quickly, but we must use these opportunities for our good aim. Theory and practice terms are used together. Theory is very useful and necessary for learning foreign languages. Theory knowledge is given to students by the Russian teachers. As a result students may use teacher's experience his or her teaching methods, when they will become a skilled teacher. How we can achieve this success, first of all we must teach students modern and technological teaching systems, for instance, every specific lesson is taught in special rooms, students must use a lot of language rooms, because it helps students to improve their listening ability. Every student must support his or her theoretical knowledge, when they are teaching students during the practical work. This modeling system can help them to improve their skills. It is very necessary in the point of view to link theory and practice with logical deduction for teaching foreign languages. Every student must do some necessary home tasks, which make presentations, new ideas, interesting handouts, Russian role plays which depend on foreign languages, because such kind of home tasks can help to learn and gain a lot of necessary knowledge. So that their old knowledge will change and deepen one's own knowledge. The instructor of university organizes conferences and seminars, actions and measures to improve literacy of students and teachers in "the day of knowledge". And also, every enlightenment and culturally room in university and dormitory is being charred matters of providing with necessary and important furniture and furnishings and literatures together. It isn't enough to be technical equipment for students to learn and develop their knowledge and experience at university. In order to achieve this success all students must have strong knowledge and equal opportunities to learn and study a lot and take shape high report and cultures. Even some scientist give own necessary ideas about practice and theory's place in teaching subjects. Teaching module has got three main sides, and one of them is theory. Learning language, as we know are very essential part of our writing and speaking. While using language we often need to practice it. In linguistics before learning each language there are two main terms. They are Theory and Practice. Both of them are important while students are having lessons. And we know, nowadays there are too many structures have been created by professional professors, teachers and by others. So, let's we shall give definition both these terms. Theory – the truth meaning of this term is practice. Practice – the words which remind above is too useful. Learning languages more theoretical level as members of a functional class of verbal and no verbal devices which provide contextual coordinates for ongoing talk. Learning the Russian language is sequentially depend elements scientists define learning language is lexical expression which signals the relation of contrast, implication or celebration. In order to develop learning language we can use many interesting methods during teaching. One of them is "Word by Word". The structure of this game is quite easy. A pupil tells a word and the other one have to continue another word with the latest letter of the word. Using like this method absolutely helps every learner how to speak fluently the Russian language. The most important thing is they can translate novels of world literature from that language into the Uzbek language. Practice is too useful because during lesson class listeners don't pay attention to everything, they listen selectively. So, practice and theory is the main means of the teaching language and both of them cannot be separated during the teaching and learning process.
